

Data Analysis

Directions:

1. Find quantitative data related to the career field of your choice. Have the data approved by your teacher before moving forward.
2. Choose the most appropriate type of graph for the information and create a well-organized, visually appealing graphical representation of the data. You may use computer software, online programs or other resources, but the graph must be of your own creation.